HOW THE CYCLES STARTED.

The four barrel is empty. And the lady is getting low. And the folks with whom I've dealt. West coast like I love. And many times I've blamed myself. For voting for a "change". But I've learned through my stomach. What I couldn't through my brains. There's no money in my pocket. And there's no coal in the bin: The weather's growing colder. And my breeches might fly. I'm longing for the "good old times". And my conscience gives me pains. But I've learned through my stomach. What I couldn't through my brains.

The factory hasn't started up. And the night might slow. And daily I am adding more. To the little bills I owe. Each day I learn losses. Where I used to count up gains. And I'm learning through my stomach. What I couldn't through my brains. There's a day of judgment coming. For those who fooled me. There's a day of retribution. For those who made time slow. I am going to visit to change time back. When I can count up gains. For I've learned through my stomach. What I couldn't through my brains.

Supper has been opened. But the diet's awful thin: Free traders made their promise. And denounced McKinley. But the people have grown wiser. Losses don't sit up with gains: They're found out through their stomach. What they couldn't through their brains. They pity the "poor farmers". They tell the working man. And praise the free-trade William Bill. To the people of the land. And how they love the pensioner. It drives the veterans panic. What they learned through their stomach. What they couldn't through their brains.

They promised us much better times. And more free as mud. But work has stopped and the drops' day down with a dull thud. But soon we'll make these Democrats. An ignore the labor pain. For we've learned through our stomachs. What we couldn't through our brains.

Matter for publication in The Ledger MUST be handed in before 9 o'clock in the morning.

THANKSGIVING DINNER.

It Was a Grand Success and Greatly Enjoyed By All.

Another Thanksgiving Day has gone into history.

But unlike other Thanksgiving Days in Maysville, this one goes on the pages of history to be referred to by many as the grandest spent in this city in many a year.

About two months ago the idea of giving a dinner to the poor of our city was agitated in the various churches by the Young People's Societies. It being suggested by Mr. J. M. Scott.

Finally a committee was appointed from each church, and all met in Y. M. C. A. Hall and organized to make the necessary arrangements for the event.

Many citizens gave liberally, and those who predicted its failure now are free to admit that nothing is impossible when undertaken in the right spirit.

The Neptune Fire Company very generously donated the use of the Neptune Hall, White, Judd & Co. the use of the tables and the Y. M. C. A. the use of the chairs.

Yesterday morning there was a union service at the First Presbyterian Church, Rev. T. W. Watts preaching the sermon, after which those who had been furnished with tickets went from the church to the hall, where everything was in readiness for all those who could be accommodated at the first table, the remainder going to the Central Presbyterian Church, out of the weather, to await their turn, and there were between 300 and 400 fed at the hall.

Those who were unable to attend were furnished their dinner at their home, and there were about 200 dinners distributed in this way.

There was a delegation of handsome young ladies from the churches that were interested in the dinner who waited on the tables and helped fill the plates, and these young ladies deserve much praise for the way in which they handled the crowd.

Colonel John P. Wallace and Major William Garrison did the carving, and it was well done.

After all had been served there was an abundance left, and, according to Scripture, "they gathered up the fragments that none should be wasted," which were sold, netting a neat little sum, which goes to buying coal and other necessities that will be needed this winter.

And who will say that this isn't history repeating itself? Didn't Christ feed the multitude in days gone by? And if between 500 and 600 aren't a multitude, what would you call them?

Too much praise cannot be given those who got the dinner up and made it the success it was.

BOOMING!

SOME SEQUELS TO THE LATE REPUBLICAN VICTORY.

Returning Property-Factories Starting Up-Work for American Workmen.

(Before the election THE LEDGER argued that Republican success meant a restoration of confidence, the opening of American factories and workshops, the return of business to its wonted channels, profitable and steady employment for American workmen, and a new era of renewed prosperity along the line. That the hopes held out by THE LEDGER were not false ones - being fully demonstrated. Below are a few evidences of the business revival that tread on the heels of the great Republican victory.-Editor.)

The Tennessee Coal, Iron and Railway Company at Bessemer, Ala., will soon put its furnaces in blast.

A four-mill tinplate plant is to be erected at Newark, O., within the coming few months by Pittsburgh capitalists. Employment will be given to 300 men.

C. S. Dutton & P. M. Hass will soon have in operation at Youngstown, O., a factory for the manufacture of cold rolled shafting. Employment will be given to near a hundred men.

The Ironworks at Brilliant, O., which have been idle for some time, past, have been sold to J. R. Jackson of McKeesport, Pa., and will be started up, employing to a large force of men.

The Crane & Bred Manufacturing Company of Cincinnati now has 350 of its 400 employees at work with prospects of adding the remaining fifty, and perhaps more, within a very short time.

The department is particularly rushed with orders.

The Autman-Miller Company at Akron, O., has started its foundry with a full force of men, and it is expected that a start will soon be made in all the other departments. The Empire Mower and Reaper Company also expects to have its plant in full operation within a short time.

Work in the different factories in Elwood, Ind., is moving along as usual, there being but very little change either in amount of work done or number of employees at work. Orders are coming in better, and the outlook is brighter for the future, but as the plants are nearly all running at full capacity there is little room for improvement in this direction.

Fairmount, Ind.-The Dillon Glass Factory, which has been practically idle for nearly two years, and which has been in the hands of a receiver for several months, will probably be sold soon to Marion parties. The Marion Bottle Works are negotiating for the purchase of the plant, and it is quite probable that the sale will be effected within the next few days.

In the event of the contemplated sale, the factory will be put in operation without delay, which will give employment to between 75 and 100 people. The King City Glass Works started last Tuesday with a full force of 60 men and boys. The company recently completed extensive improvements and repairs, and is now prepared to manufacture all kinds of glass electric supplies. Several large orders are now on hand, and the company will be compelled to operate its plant day and night for some time to come.

Bracken county will not have a new Courthouse this year-some other year. Mr. E. W. Hefflin and Miss Nettie Branch will marry at Tilton next Wednesday.

Joseph W. Miller, aged 31, and Miss Linnie Long, aged 15, married in Fleming.

The District Conference of the Y. M. C. A. convenes in this city tomorrow afternoon.

The capital stock of the Cincinnati Gas Company has just been increased $400,000, making the total $5,500,000.

A count of the survivors shows that 175 members of the Fifty-third Congress have been elected to the Fifty-fourth.

Ira O. Jones, aged 29, and Miss Luella C. Carter, aged 16, Fleming county folk, enjoyed their Thanksgiving by getting married.

James Tolle, who was run over by a dray on Second street yesterday morning and seriously injured, is able to be out this morning. His many friends will be pleased to learn that he was not dangerously hurt.

Great reduction in Millinery. Trimmed and Untrimmed Hats at astonishingly low prices. These goods will be sold very cheap for cash. Call early and secure bargains at 41 West Third street. Mrs. W. L. Davidson.

Charles Hason and Andy Craig went gunning after rabbits Tuesday in the neighborhood of Tuckahoe. Charlie went down the side of the hill in the thick underbrush to scare out the game, and Andy followed, Charlie not knowing it, however. Andy was walking around a clump of bushes, and Charlie, thinking it was a rabbit making so much noise, fired his gun into Andy, one shot hitting him on the neck and several others striking his hand. Andy will get over it.

Joseph Ryan, a former Maysvillian and at one time Foreman of the Cox & Poynter Flour Factory of this city, died at his home near Valley Station, Lewis county, Wednesday night, aged 70 years. He was stricken with paralysis about a month ago. Death came while he was sitting in a chair. He leaves a wife and four children-John F. Ryan of this city being a son. His remains will be brought here this morning, and the funeral will occur tomorrow at 10 a. m. from Mr. Ryan's residence in the Fifth Ward, after which they will be interred in the Maysville Cemetery.

ORIGIN OF THANKSGIVING.

The date of the first observance of this distinctly American institution has been a matter of some dispute. A writer in an exchange has been to some trouble to ascertain the facts and states them as follows:

The first observance of a day of thanksgiving, formally recommended by the civil authorities, occurred in Leyden, Holland, October 3, 1620, being the first anniversary of the deliverance of that city from siege.

In July, 1623, a day of fasting and prayer was appointed on account of drought. Rain came abundantly while they were praying, and the governor appointed a day of thanksgiving which was observed with religious exercises.

The Charles-town records show a similar change of fast day into Thanksgiving in 1631, on account of the arrival of supplies from Ireland.

Dr. Franklin tells us that in a time of great despondency among the settlers of New England it was proposed in one of their public meetings to proclaim a fast. An aged farmer rose and spoke of their provoking heaven with their complaints, and of the cause they had for thanksgiving. He then made a motion that instead of appointing a day of fasting, they should appoint a day of thanksgiving. The assembly readily agreed.

Massachusetts Bay was the first of the colonies to appoint an annual thanksgiving by the proclamation of the English governor. During the revolution Thanksgiving day was national institution, being annually recommended by congress, but after the general Thanksgiving for peace in 1784 there was no national appointment until 1796, when Washington, by request of congress, recommended a day of Thanksgiving for the adoption of the constitution. Washington issued a second proclamation of Thanksgiving in 1795 on account of the suppression of the English government. During the revolution President Madison, by the request of congress, recommended a Thanksgiving for peace in 1815. But the official recognition of a day for the giving of thanks was mainly confined to New England until the year 1817, after which date it was regularly appointed by the governor of New York. In 1855 Gov. Johnson, of Virginia, recommended a day of thanksgiving, but in 1871 Gov. Wise, when requested to do so, publicly declined, on the ground that he was not authorized to interfere in religious matters. During the civil war, in 1863 and 1864, President Lincoln issued proclamations recommending annual Thanksgivings. Since then a proclamation has been issued annually by the president as well as by the governors of the states and the mayors of the principal cities. Custom fixes the time as the last Thursday in November.

It is well for us all to pause a little in the mad whirl of business or work or pleasure, and think of the blessings which have crowned the year, and lift up our hearts in special thanksgiving.

AMERICA FOR AMERICANS

McKINLEY AND WILSON ABROAD.

In 1890 William McKinley was burned in effigy in the English manufacturing city of Sheffield; but in 1894 William L. Wilson was dined and vined in London because he is the author of a Free-Trade Bill. There are significant facts.

UNCLE GROVER recently stepped on his foot—or his foot stepped on a pebble—or his pebble grooved stepped on a his—or his pebble on his foot—well, dang, it won't, some of his Kentucky admirers send the old chap a brand of whisky that doesn't make one's legs drunk?

THAT staid Democratic journal, The Maysville Advocate, prints this dismal picture:

"Without a cent to her credit and with no visible prospect of being able to meet maturing obligations, the Old Commonwealth seems to be in pretty bad shape. It has been known that state officials have not been paid their salaries for months, but it was thought that the remittances from tax collections would relieve the situation after the first of November, temporarily, at least. It appears, however, that the state is still deep in the mire and that no feasible plan for relief has suggested itself to the state officials who are endeavoring to discover some way out of the difficulty."

Suppose the people of Kentucky give the Republicans just one chance at financing the affairs of the Old Commonwealth? One thing is certain, even the crazy Populists couldn't make things worse than they are under Democratic rule at Frankfort.

FREE-TRADERS, as a proof of the benefit of the Walker Tariff of 1846, are accustomed to speak of the number of miles of railroad built during the years from 1840 to 1860. They tell us it was the time of the opening up of the great West. They might as well say that the discovery of gold in California was the result of the Walker Tariff. Those very things which they elicit—viz., the building of many miles of railroad and the opening up of the West—show the reason why the panic was delayed until 1857 instead of following on the heels of Tariff reform, as did the panic of 1893. In the years following the Walker Tariff, men who were thrown out of employment went into the undeveloped West as miners or as pioneers; they found work in the construction of railroads. While the avenues of employment were open the panic was delayed off. In these present days of Tariff reform our workmen have no such refuge, but tramp our streets waiting for work. There have been thirty avenues recently open to them.

THE most absent minded man on record is the one who left a notice on his office door that he would be back at 4 o'clock and coming twenty minutes before the time set down on the step to wait for him self.

THE REPORT

Of the Secretary of the Interior Department.

He Devotes Much Space to the Indian Question.

Number of Penitentiaries at the Close of the Fiscal Year, 1893-94, as follows: Noted and Soldiers, 74,000; Widows, 10,000; Army Nurses, 10,000.

WASHINGTON, Nov. 30.—Secretary

Hoke Smith, of the interior department, has issued his annual report to the president. He devotes much space to the Indian question, but has no new or striking recommendations to make.

There were 10,377,324.72 acres of the public lands sold last year, besides 28,978 acres of Indian lands disposed of.

There remain about 606,000,313 acres, outside of Alaska, military and other reservations. In the matter of penitentiaries the secretary says:

At the close of the fiscal year ending June 30, 1894, 960,544 penitentiaries were borne upon the rolls, an increase of 4,332 penitentiaries during the year.

The penitentiaries may be classed as follows:

Soldiers and sailors, 74,000; Widows, orphans and other dependent relatives, 10,000; Army nurses, 10,000.

Of these, 10,610 penitentiaries are on account of Indian and other wars prior to the late war, and 13,710 are orphans and other dependent relatives.

Under the act of June 27, 1890, there are 375,084 penitentiaries and 44,290 widows and orphans.

It is interesting to note that nine widows and three daughters of the revolution constitute the pension roll for that war. Forty-five survivors of the war 1812 constitute the remnant of that list.

The total amount expended for penitentiaries during the past fiscal year was $139,840,461.05, leaving a balance from the appropriation in the treasury of $25,305,715.65.

The estimate for the fiscal year 1896 made by the commissioner is $140,000,000.

The commissioner stated that, in his opinion, the year 1893, thirty years after the close of the last war, must in the nature of things see the highest limit of the pension roll, which therefore must begin to decrease. The number of pending claims in the bureau has decreased over 90,000 during the year. A large number of the new claims are for increase by pensioners now on the rolls. The number of certificates issued was 80,213.

The aggregate of persons added to the rolls during the year is 30,005, and the total number dropped for all causes 37,000.

The first payments during the past year amounted to $11,197,350.58.

The report of the commissioner discusses the provisions of December 21, 1893, to show that the bureau has conformed strictly to that proviso and also to illustrate, by special cases, the fruits which have been permitted to rest upon the government by reason of it.

The report of Assistant Secretary Reynolds, from April 15, 1893, to November 1, 1894, presents the following statements:

Number of undeposited appeal notices, etc., pending on docket of board of pension appeals, April 15, 1893, 696

Number of undeposited appeal notices, etc., pending on docket of board of pension appeals, April 15, 1893, to November 1, 1894, 584

Number of appeals, motions, etc., considered and acted upon by board of pension appeals and finally adjudicated and disposed of by the assistant secretary from April 15, 1893, to November 1, 1894, 10,714

Number of appeals, motions, etc., considered by board of pension appeals and returned by assistant secretary to pension bureau for further action from April 15, 1893, to November 1, 1894, 71

Total number of appeals, motions, etc., considered and acted upon by board of pension appeals and finally adjudicated and disposed of by the assistant secretary from April 15, 1893, to November 1, 1894, 10,714

The foregoing volume of work accomplished in eighteen and one-half months is believed to be unprecedented in the history of the department, being more than twice the number of cases disposed of in a like period under my predecessor.

The patent office received last year 31,932 applications and granted 2,546 patents.

The reports of the commissioner of education of the bureau of railroads and on the condition of the territories is given much consideration. The national parks, and forest reservations receive notice, as does the government hospital for the insane and kindred institutions, while the appendix contains much supplemental matter, such as Indian agreements, bills in congress, etc.

Remembered the Ready.

ROME, Nov. 30.—United States Ambassador MacVegh and most of the Americans of this city attended Thanksgiving services in St. Paul's church, on the Via Nazionale. At the conclusion of the services a subscription for the families of the victims of the recent earthquakes was opened by Rev. Dr. Nevini. The sum of 550 lire was collected.

Break With Liberator.

LONDON, Nov. 30.—Letters from Sierra Leone show that the brush between the British steamship Ambrist and the Liberator officials was greatly exaggerated. Only four or five persons were killed, and they were Liberians.

A Thousand Miners die.

MIDDLEBORO, Ky., Nov. 30.—Byron M. Morrison, Mine Superintendent, and Yorkville Coal and (to be) closed down their mines, and eleven 800 and 1,000 men are thrown out of employment.

The President Better.

WASHINGTON, Nov. 30.—Private Secretary Thurston says that President McKinley is better today than he has been for some time, and expects to be at the White House on Friday and attend the cabinet meeting.

ON THE OHIO

Our Ninth May Leads to Handle the Torpedo Boats.

WASHINGTON, Nov. 30.—In connection with the strong presentation by Secretary Herbert of the necessity for the procurement of a number of new torpedo boats, a proposition has been made to him whereby the navy may be made very popular in the east interior of the United States, where it is now almost unknown, and, more important still, the navy may hold at its disposal a large force of trained sailors, peculiarly expert in the torpedo service, which there is now no adequate opportunity to develop.

The plan in brief is for the government to build a large number of torpedo boats and to lend them to the states' naval militia to be used at any point on the river, lake, or even canal, where water may be found to navigate them. There are not many states where the smaller boats of this kind may not find some water to navigate, and, with the inducement of the free use of such a craft, it is not doubted that the naval militia will be forthcoming in states where there is no other means of drilling them. Competent engineers and ordinance officers would be called in to instruct the militia in the use of these boats, and the men would be free to avail of them for pleasure, even for excursions, with the understanding that they should employ no outside help, but would perform every office on the boat themselves, steering, firing and running the engines.

It has already been established that the smaller torpedo boats can be moved from point to point quickly by rail, so that in case of war a great number of these indispensable crafts could be concentrated at any threatened point on our coast, all manned by crews thoroughly familiar with their boats and expert in torpedo drill, constituting an adjunct of almost incalculable value. One of the strongest features of the plan, which, of course, would require congressional sanction, is the saving to the government of the small torpedo boats as compared with a full-sized war ship, a very moderate appropriation, not more than would be required to build one battleship, would procure fifty of the torpedo boats.

THE NEXT CONGRESS.

Official List of Republican, Democrat and "Pop."

WASHINGTON, Nov. 30.—Not until Wednesday will the officials of the house felt sufficient confidence in their official list of representatives in the Fifty-fourth congress to send it to the printer. As finally prepared the list shows 24 republicans, 104 democrats and 6 populists, 1 silverite and 1 va-cant.

The republicans will constitute more than two-thirds of the house membership. Sectionally the republican majority will be divided as follows:

New England states, 36; old Middle States, 66; middle Western states, 92; new Western states, 28; Southern states, 32.

The democrats secured only 13 members in the Northern states. California and Massachusetts contribute 1 each; Illinois, Ohio and Pennsylvania, 2 each; New York, 5. The democrats secured no solid state delegations—those of Arkansas, Florida, Georgia, Louisiana, Mississippi and South Carolina.

The republicans secure 19 solid delegations—those of Connecticut, Delaware, Idaho, Indiana, Maine, Michigan, Minnesota, Montana, Iowa, New Hampshire, New Jersey, North Dakota, Oregon, Rhode Island, South Dakota, Vermont, Washington, West Virginia.

In all twenty-eight contests may be made from the southern states, and a majority of them are to be instituted by republican candidates against democrats, but it now appears probable that there will not be so many. Mr. Myers, who it was expected would wage a contest for the seat from the Sixth Arkansas district, is now quoted as saying that he will make no effort to secure the seat in the face of the fact that his opponent is credited with a 3,000 vote. Late admissibility indicate that Lee Randall will abandon the contest against Gen. Wheeler for the seat from the Eighth Alabama district.

The Result of Sin.

WATKINS, N. Y., Nov. 30.—A ghastly tragedy was enacted at the Kendall house some time during Wednesday night. About 5 o'clock on Thursday morning Miss Kate Quirk, a domestic employed there, and Charles N. Richards, a saloon-keeper, were found in the former's room with their throats cut in a horrible manner. Miss Quirk was dead and Richards could not recover. The latter is 35 years of age and has a family. He and Miss Quirk had been intimate for some time, and jealousy probably prompted the deed. The coroner's jury has called Miss Quirk before attempting his own destruction.

The Popgun Bill.

WASHINGTON, Nov. 30.—Senator Jones, of Arkansas, a member of the finance committee, said Thursday that he had no doubt that there would be an earnest effort on the part of the democratic members of the finance committee to get the senate to consider the supplementary tariff bills concerning sugar, coal and iron at the forthcoming session.

Children Criminated.

LITTLE ROCK, Ark., Nov. 30.—Three mill children, two boys and a girl, Mrs. W. K. Walters, living near Park, twenty miles from here, were turned to death Thursday while the father was away from home at work. He had locked them in the house.

Reported Settled.

LONDON, Nov. 30.—It is reported that the Bluefields incident has been settled. Great Britain having, upon the presentation of the United States, agreed to let Mr. Gosling, the British minister, succeed his authority. The affair may lead to his recall.

THE MAYSVILLE REPUBLICAN

WEEKLY PUBLIC LEDGER.

Did U?

Did you ever think that relatives or friends who have moved to distant places—gone West, perhaps, to grow up with the country—are always glad to hear from their "Old Kentucky Home"? And did it ever occur to you that a single copy of THE MAYSVILLE REPUBLICAN—the weekly edition of The Public Ledger—contains more home news than you could embrace in a hundred ordinary letters? And did it ever strike you that you could send the paper to your relatives and friends for a whole year at less cost than you can write a letter every week? Besides, don't you think a year's subscription to THE REPUBLICAN would be a present highly appreciated by those at a distance? Suppose your friends heard what they have to say on the subject.

MILLS STOP.

Fifty Thousand Men Thrown Out of Employment.

Sugar Refineries in Boston, New York and Philadelphia Close.

President Hawmeyer Talks. He claims the Refineries Lose Money for Months and That They Will Be Sworn in as Governors.

NEW YORK, Nov. 30.—An evening paper says: "Orders were issued Wednesday morning from the headquarters of the American Sugar refinery in Wall street to shut down completely all the refineries of the company in Boston, New York and Philadelphia. Fifty thousand operatives will be affected by the closing of the sugar works."

President H. O. Hawmeyer of the American Sugar Refining Co., said Wednesday morning: "The sugar business has been bad for some months past. We have been hoping against hope all along and tried to weather through the period of depression, trusting that business might improve and that we would be able to run our works to their fullest capacity, but everything was against us."

"The reaction that followed the passage of the tariff bill brought about a dull season, and the war among the wholesale grocers in several sections of the country still further tended to demoralize the trade. When to this was added the excitement of an election campaign and the fact that congress would pass a free sugar bill, making all sugars free, you can readily see that there was no reason to cause to compel us to shut down completely."

"That we ran our works up to the production time with a reduced force in the mills, likewise like that, something would turn out. Our faith in the future has failed us, and, beginning Thursday, we shall shut down the works in Boston, New York, Philadelphia and Baltimore. This will affect 50,000 operatives."

"The last congress is responsible for the present situation, and if they pass the free sugar bill at Washington, as is reported that they will, they will kill the sugar industry completely. Things could not be much worse than they are now. There is very little difference between the prices of raw and refined sugar and there is no reason or justice in continuing a business at a heavy loss."

"We must either have enough profit to cover the high expenses of carrying on sugar refining or else go out of the business completely. We cannot compete with the wages paid in Europe, and our men could not begin to support themselves and families at such a loss. And yet we are being run out of our establishments with only the margin in refining that is to be found between the cost of raw and refined sugar, which is now a trifle less than half a cent per pound."

Japan Commit Outrages.
CHICAGO, Nov. 30.—Chinese fugitives who were arrested in the city of Japan, were shot at Port Arthur, shooting every one, old and young, and that pillage and murder were supreme for three days. They said they were barbarously mutilated, their hands, noses and ears being chopped off, and say that other nameless atrocities were committed. No resistance was offered by the people, but Japanese soldiers scoured the country for days and killed and looted as they pleased. The fugitives also say that all the streets of Port Arthur as well as the harbor are filled with dead bodies.

Intensely Patriotic.
SAN FRANCISCO, Nov. 30.—A United States naval officer who came over to the Japanese says: "The Japanese has such patriotism been shown as that evinced by the Japanese. Rich and poor have contributed to the war fund, and they have volunteered in the ranks of the Red Cross society, in the ranks of which are royal princes and nobles. The society has been at every part of the empire, and has done the work on the field of battle."

Robustness Laid to Rest.
ST. PETERSBURG, Nov. 30.—The funeral of Anton Rubinstein, the great here Wednesday at the Newski church. The ceremonies were attended by the entire art world of St. Petersburg, and deputations were present from the imperial theater of Moscow, all the musical societies throughout the Empire, and from the municipalities of St. Petersburg and Petrohof. There were thousands of spectators about the church.

Strangled Himself in the Attic.

MASSENG MILITIA

At Montgomery, Ala., and Kolb Harris, Esq., leaving for Will H. Harris in Governor.

BIRMINGHAM, Ala., Nov. 30.—R. P. Kolb, the populist claimant for the governorship of Alabama, left Birmingham Thursday afternoon for Montgomery, Ala., where Friday the inauguration of Col. Oates as governor is scheduled to take place. Before his departure he would not submit to an interview, further than to declare again his intention to take the oath of office. His bearing did not indicate that he anticipated any tragic occurrences upon the occasion of the inauguration.

The friends of Oates express the utmost anxiety over the situation, but there is an undercurrent of dread as to possibilities. One of Kolb's supporters is quoted here Thursday as saying that if by any turn of affairs Kolb should be killed at Montgomery there will be a bloody revolution. Such a contingency is quite remote. Little definite information is obtainable here as to any considerable number of Kolb's friends going to Montgomery before the inauguration. It is known that the clans have been called on with instructions to go armed. How general will be the response can not yet be learned.

The apprehension of the officials is shown in the fact that all the troops of the state are on the move. They say that Alabama military will arrive here Friday on the different trains, and a special train will convey them to the capital where the troops from other parts of the state will be concentrated. While the troops have been called to Oates to the inauguration ceremony, it is quite patent that this is but a blind. Inasmuch as such military ceremonies are not customary in this state on such occasions.

AN OHIO VOLCANO.

A Very Queer Eruption Taking Place Near Delaware.

DELAWARE, O., Nov. 30.—A very strange freak has been discovered on the farm of George Case, about eight miles from this city. A few days ago the residents of the neighborhood were startled by an unusual, very strange and obnoxious atmosphere, which grew more and more intense. Investigation proved the actual existence of what seemed to be a miniature volcano, smoke and sulphurous gas being emitted from cracks in the earth, with occasional flashes. The principal place thus affected is a mound about sixty feet high and about one hundred feet in diameter at the base. A great distance round about this eminence the earth is intensely hot. Spectators are flocking to the scene, but no one ventures close to the center of trouble.

ATLANTA, Ga., Nov. 30.—Thirteen persons on Ind Turner's plantation, near Calhoun, Ga., were poisoned Thursday. All of the Turner family are desperate ill, and some of the servants are very sick. The last report from Calhoun is that arsenic had been thrown into the well, but by whom has not yet been learned.

Officers chased them to the state line, but did not arrest them.

Alleged Baller-Hoa Nurses.

BURR, Neb., Nov. 30.—Harry Sturms, John Kunkle and an investigation is being made to discover the truth, but thus far no trace of it has been found. The last report from Calhoun is that arsenic had been thrown into the well, but by whom has not yet been learned.

Harry Myer, South Bridge, head and face cut, and possibly concussion of the brain. Lester Newell, South Bridge, body bruised.

The train for Worcester, due to leave South Bridge at 6:35 a. m., was delayed at the station by an accident to a brakeman (Carlson, whose foot was crushed, and the train was running fast to make up time.

The football eleven of the Y. M. C. A. had started from their rooms to walk to the grounds, and meeting the train, had hurriedly their opponents of the Worcester Polytechnic institute eleven, returning, they tumbled in and escaped the disaster to some extent, as they were on the horses were on the tracks at the center street crossing, when a sharp whistle from the locomotive, which by a curve, was the first warning to the sixteen occupants of the barge.

Driver Chamberlain lashed his horses and the man on the seat by his side jumped. Both were too late. The engine struck the barge on the left side, between the wheels and tore along for 150 yards, crushing the barge and its living contents into a mass of broken splinters and of dead and dying human beings.

The crowd on the football field could see the engine when it came to a standstill, and rushed to the scene. Everything was completely wrecked, but little hopes of recovery are expressed for five of them.

The Worcester Technology team returned to the city by noon train, completely unharmed by the accident.
